

Components of a Diligent Recruitment Plan

- A description of the characteristics of the children/youth for whom homes are needed.
- Specific strategies to reach the individuals and communities that reflect the children/youth in care who need homes.
- Diverse methods of disseminating general and child-specific information.
- Strategies for ensuring that all prospective parents have access to the home study process.
- Strategies for training staff to work with diverse communities.

